YOUR NAME

Dear Sir/ Madam,

I have come across your ad on LinkedIn and I would like to express my interest in submitting my application with a CV herewith enclosed.

I noticed you have indicated a preference for native speakers of English, and while I respect your decision to specify what you are looking for in a successful candidate, I would also like to encourage you to take the time to consider me for this position.

To my knowledge, the main reason behind a preference for a native speaker teacher is a native speaker accent, but while having a particular accent is common to all speakers, I hope you can agree that a skilled teacher, whose spoken English is intelligible, is far more valuable to students.

For this reason I am attaching a language certificate that demonstrates my command of the English language to a C2 level across all skills.

I hold a CELTA and DELTA diploma awarded by Cambridge, a BA in Communication Studies and an MA in Language studies (English and Spanish).

Moreover, I have been teaching English for over 10 years and have been actively engaged with CPD opportunities.

I would really appreciate it if we could make time for a short interview to assess my competencies in person and overcome any objections you may have to my application.

Best Regards,

The_non_native_speaker
